THE FRENCH GUIDE TO HOLIDAY BEAUTY

Bazaar's resident Parisian shares her approach to staying groomed while travelling

Bazaar's executive fashion, jewellery and beauty director Julie-Anne Dorff shares her approach to beauty when she's on holiday. From the essential hair mask to the body oil she's relied on for years, here is the complete guide to staying chic while abroad...

For my skin...

I cleanse with Caudalie Instant Foaming Cleanser, £15, as it is soft and doesn't irritate my sensitive skin. A dermatologist told me about Bioderma Photoderm AR Tinted Cream SPF50, £16, and I've been using it ever since as it's not heavy or greasy.

In the evenings, I use Bioderma Sensibio H20, £10.50, to remove my make-up (if I've worn any at dinner) and then I slather on La Roche Posay Hydraphase Intense, £11. If I've been at the beach, I'll also use a Collagena sheet mask to rehydrate my skin. These are only available in France, so I stock up when I'm there.

In my make-up bag...

For a pop of colour while I'm away, I love Chanel Rouge Coco Stylo Lipstick in Conte, £26 – it's a soft pink. On my cheeks, I use Charlotte Tilbury Beach Stick in Formentera, £30, for a hint of colour and Chanel Le Volume De Chanel Mascara, £25, on my eyes.

On my nails, I opt for nude hues, but for my toes I love Essie Nail Polish in Geranium, £8.95, as the bright orange looks great against a tan.

For my body...

Nuxe Dry Oil Huile Prodigieuse, £17, has been a firm favourite of mine for years and it's always in my suitcase. During the day, I use Institut Esthederm Adaptasun Sensitive Skin Body Lotion Sun Strong, £42.50, because it protects without aggravating my skin. I'll also pack Miller Harris Travel Sprays in Coeur de Jarden, £50, but I spray it into my hair rather than onto my skin, so it doesn't affect my SPF.

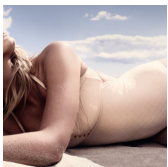

For my hair...

During the day, I'll mist Phyto Plage Protective Sun Veil, £15, into my hair and tie it into a high bun. Sometimes I'll add fresh lemon juice to my hair to lighten it. In the evening, I use Kérastase Soleil Masque UV Defense Active Anti-Damage Concentrate, £23.20, every evening and I'll use the Kérastase Soleil Bain Shampoo, £14.32, every other evening.

I always book an appointment with Michael at Nyumba Hair Salon, on Sloane Square the week I get back for a trim.
